Great Wineries of the Okanagan™

Treat your senses to a visit to our state-of-the-art winery, bistro and gallery. Sample award-winning wines while surrounded by great modern art. Enjoy delicious, locally sourced meals indoors or on our beautiful patio, alongside an infinity water feature.

Winery

Liquidity wines are estate grown and hand harvested. We use sustainable and time-tested viticultural practices to provide the finest growing environment for our vines. The proof is in every glass of award-winning Liquidity wine we produce.

Our winemaker, Alison Moyes, acquired a degree in Oenology & Viticulture from Brock University. Following several seasons working in the Niagara region, Alison moved to the Okanagan and worked for two top wineries in the Valley prior to joining the team at Liquidity Wines. With equal parts artistry and science, winemaking is a perfect fit for Alison. Her goal is to produce authentic, expressive wines of the highest quality.

Bistro

Liquidity Bistro, lead by Head Chef Matt Martin, focusses on seasonal, sustainable, artful food. We are particularly excited to start our own farm garden here at the winery in 2018. It is incredibly important for people to know the story behind their food, and this will provide diners with access to hyper-local ingredients that they can actually see growing onsite. We are also partnering with some amazing local farmers and businesses who share and support our beliefs.

Art Gallery

Ever-evolving art installations are in the bistro, tasting room and throughout the grounds. All design aspects of this property have been carefully chosen by the owner, Ian MacDonald.

After growing and selling award-winning grapes to other wineries for over two decades we decided it was time to make our own.

Liquidity's land is rich in history, just as its soils are rich in the perfect minerals to grow a range of varietals. Ten thousand years ago, glaciers covering the landscape deposited sand and gravel soils onto the south-facing property, which created ideal growing conditions for fruits.

Back in the 1930s, entrepreneur and engineer Charlie Oliver came to the area and developed Oliver Ranch. There he planted over 110 acres of luscious fruit trees, including cherries, peaches, apricots and pears. It has been said that in its day the Oliver Ranch was the largest soft fruit orchard in the British Empire. A pioneer in the development of irrigation systems, he built the ponds and pipelines that still nourish our vineyard.

Oliver Ranch was sold and broken up in 1971. A 30 acre portion of the original ranch became what is now Liquidity. Some German grape varietals were first planted on the site as far back as 1976.

Starting in 1991, all non-vinifera vines have been replaced with our current varietals, which include Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, Pinot Gris, Viognier, Merlot, Riesling and Dornfelder.

We use sustainable and time-tested viticultural practices to provide the finest growing environment for our vines. Great wines start with great grapes.

Liquidity. Fine wines. 25 years in the making and now ready to share with the world.

“Look out the dining room window and you might think you’re in Italy, the way the rolling hills criss-cross for miles.”

DAVID ROBINSON - Equestrian

Featuring Artist
DAVID ROBISON

Contemporary figurative sculptor David Robinson will be showcasing pieces including his monumental work “Equestrian” this season at the winery. Sculptor David Robinson has been a force in the Canadian art scene for the last 25 years. Based in Vancouver, he is known for his conceptually and physically complex works that are outstanding contemporary examples of a type of humanist realism that engages with fundamental, often spiritual questions of the experience and meaning of being. His sculptures do this through a few central premises; the universal human, our interaction with the physical world and the exploration of metaphysical ideas and their expression in form.

Robinson has produced numerous solo shows, and participated in many group exhibits nationally and internationally. His sculptures have been commissioned by such clients as Polygon Homes, the Four Seasons Hotel Resort in Whistler, the Regional Municipality of Wood Buffalo, and Century Group. His work is in many private and corporate collections including the Rosewood Hotel Georgia, Dentons Canada LLP, Painted Rock Estate Winery, Toronto Dominion Bank, and Vancouver General Hospital.

I'm delighted to be showing at Liquidity this year. It's always meaningful to see the artwork in a new environment, and Liquidity's Ian MacDonald has done a brilliant job cultivating a beautiful setting for the sculpture.

American Beauty: The Opulent Pre-Depression
Architecture of Detroit – June 1 to June 30

This exhibition presents the large format photographic work of Canadian photographer Philip Jarmain. Since 2010 Jarmain has been documenting the increasingly rapid destruction of Detroit's early twentieth-century buildings. His emphasis in this work is on the architecture itself of these vanishing edifices: The form and the detail. The majority of these majestic pre-buildings are presently being destroyed at an exponential rate as they lie victim to scrappers, arson, and demolition.

Philip Jarmain is a photographer who earns his living in advertising and is based in Vancouver and Toronto. His personal interests as a photographer include architecture, story telling, and the filmic in photography.

Liquidity Winery is pleased to present these photographs as an opportunity to consider the historical and current state of Detroit as an American city.

RICHARD HUDSON - Twisted

RICHARD HUDSON

Twisted – May 24 to October 15

Richard Hudson has installed over 50 monumental sculptures in private collections, museums and sculpture parks around the world. During this period, he worked in wood, bronze, marble and more increasingly polished mirrored steel. The polished mirrored steel became the material of choice for his monumental outdoor sculptures as he became enamoured with the multiple reflections created in the landscape.

He has successfully shown five times with Sotheby's at Chatsworth's 'Beyond Limits' exhibitions and has recently been asked to install his sculpture 'Tear' in the coveted spot outside Madison Square Gardens in New York. He also recently completed a commission to make the largest heart in the world – an 8 metre tall polished mirrored steel sculpture; "Love Me" at the Donum Winery Sculpture Park, in Napa Valley, California. Completing this work has been the culmination of a global journey, from Europe to China in search of a monumental scale method of production.

“My sculpture begins with an idea that surfaces in my imagination unannounced and sometimes uninvited. I start modelling the plasteline, clay, plaster or other materials to give this kernel shape and form, then at this point the final work manifests itself and materializes in my hands.”

LYLE XOX HEAD OF DESIGN

September 7 to October 14

Featuring Artist
LYLE XOX

HEAD OF DESIGN – Sept 7th to Oct 14th

This exhibition is in this creative climate of blurring that Lyle finds his mixed media self portraits not only accepted, but highly celebrated. The portraits are transformative in nature and fuse inspiration from high fashion with the mundane objects of every day life; taking beauty and turning it on its head. Through the process of removing his self identify and replacing it with that of an object, it encourages dialogue on a journey connecting the viewer with a myriad of objects relating to their own carbon footprint and consumerism through a surreal lens.

Lyle XOX has been featured in publications around the world including New York Times, Huffington Post, Vogue Italia, Paper Magazine, Models.com, GQ China, CANDY Magazine, Tush Magazine, Surface, and Flare. Lyle's work has also lead to collaborations with brands such as PEPSI and Gucci.

Liquidity Winery is pleased to present these self portraits that fuse facial sculpture, makeup, found objects and fictional writing into works that speak about the power of transformation and the ability to move beyond the sense of self.

“For me, it is not about Drag, female impersonation or living the life of a New York City clubkid. It has always been and continues to be about the art. My face as a canvas.”

– LYLE XOX

IAN MACDONALD

Ian MacDonald is the hands-on manager and creative mind of Liquidity. Born in Montreal, Ian's professional life had him work as vice-president of sportswear-maker Sunice at the 1988 Winter Olympics. He fell in love with the Olympic Games and formed his company, Moving Products Inc., which was involved in arranging non-athletic uniforms at every Olympics through London 2012.

However, his passion for wine and art drew him and his business partners to the Okanagan Valley. They wanted to create a place that showcases the natural beauty of the South Okanagan along with its world-class wines. Ian has been creating his vision of an encompassing cultural experience, designing the Liquidity brand from the ground up. His goal is to have Liquidity recognized as one of the premiere boutique wineries in Canada, and in the world.

When not pouring wine at the tasting room or chatting with customers on the patio, Ian can be found hunting for new art and design ideas.

Ian's a hands-on founder, instrumental in crafting a world-class destination boutique winery, where fine, terroir-based wines meld seamlessly with exceptional cuisine and provocative art.

ALISON MOYES

Originally from Southern Ontario, Alison moved to the east coast to attend Dalhousie University and pursue an interest in science, studying Microbiology. During this time, she had the opportunity to work at some of Halifax's finest restaurants. As her palate developed, she began to consider a career in winemaking and acquired a degree in Oenology & Viticulture from Brock University. Following several seasons working in the Niagara region, the Okanagan beckoned. Alison brings experience from two top wineries in the Okanagan, having worked under Pascal Madevon at Osoyoos Larose and as Winemaker for Stoneboat Vineyards for the past five years.

Vineyard Manager JULIEN G. HÉBERT

Julien grew up on a dairy farm in rural Quebec, near Trois-Rivières, which helped him develop a passion for the land at a young age. Raised in the French lifestyle, he was also introduced to wine early in his life. After moving to Quebec City as a teenager to follow his dreams, he worked in many different fields, from a chef's assistant in a high-end restaurant, to a cabinet maker, to working as a research assistant. He put himself through university by working as a dairy farmer, and graduated with a degree in Industrial Engineering.

He was interested in learning more about the wine industry, prompting a trip to the Okanagan in 2014 to explore the region. He worked in a cellar as an assistant winemaker, and was able to work with grapes from throughout the valley, discovering the different varieties and the subtlety of terroir.

Julien joined the Liquidity team in 2015. Believing that wine is made first and foremost in the vineyard has led him back to his first love – the land – and this position has provided him with the chance to connect with the soul of nature and the unique opportunity to grow grapes in exceptional terroir.

STEPHEN JUDGE

Stephen was born and raised in Montreal. Prior to moving to the Okanagan, he worked for a precious metals dealer there. In 2013, he and his partner Catherine moved to the Okanagan so that she could help her parents start their new winery in Oliver, VinAmité Cellars. Stephen also jumped into the wine industry at that time, beginning with the tasting room at Inniskillin and then working at Black Hills Estate Winery for a few years, where he gained experience with wine clubs and the Direct-to-Consumer market. He continues to help out in the wine cellar at his partner's family winery.

Stephen joined the Liquidity team in the spring of 2017 to look after the tasting room and to grow our new Liquidity Wine Club. When Stephen is not in our tasting room or attending wine club member events, he loves to play golf. As a diehard Habs fan, his social schedule is often planned around game nights.

Liquidity is proud to be making handcrafted wines that express the individuality of the vineyard, variation of the season and the varietal.

Liquidity's property has 30 acres under vine. The ages of our plants range from over 20 years for some blocks of our Pinot Noir, Chardonnay and Pinot Gris to newly planted Riesling, in 2014. We are proud to grow five Dijon clones and three 'Heritage' clones of Pinot Noir to give our wine added complexity and depth. Alongside the classic Burgundy varietals we are successfully growing Pinot Gris, Viognier, Merlot and are happy to own a rare small lot of mature German Dornfelder.

Harvesting is done by hand in September and October. While the majority of our fruit is estate-grown, we sometimes augment with grapes from carefully selected growers in the Similkameen Valley and the Naramata Bench.

The winemaking process is catered to each individual variety and its characteristics. That being said, whole-bunch pressing, wild fermentation, gentle maceration, intricate blending and the use of French oak only, are just a few of our winemaking practices.

All in all, our passion is wine with purity, dimension and presence. We are applying the highest standards of sustainable viticulture and winemaking to create wines that fulfill the proven potential of our vineyard.

Great wines start with great grapes.

A photograph of a vineyard. In the foreground, a wooden post holds a white, shield-shaped label. The label has the word "Liquidity" in a cursive font, followed by "viognier" in a larger cursive font, and "2005" in a smaller font. At the bottom of the label, "OKANAGAN FALLS" is printed in a sans-serif font. The background shows a lush green vineyard with a mountain in the distance under a cloudy sky.

“Two wines stand out at Liquidity, a bright fresh inviting style of Viognier and a very respectable, savoury Okanagan Pinot Noir.”

The richness of this Pinot calls for dishes such as rib-eye steak, pork tenderloin or brisket.

VITICULTURE

Liquidity's premium planting of clones 667 and 828, in combination with our 1994 planted of clone 115 all cane pruned and then shoot and fruit thinned to produce 2 short tons per acre.

WINEMAKING

The tiny clusters were gently harvested and destemmed, but not crushed. The whole berries were transferred to small fermenters and fermented with a mixture of wild and commercial yeast. Each fermenter was kept relatively cool (less than 25C) throughout fermentation and gently punched down by hand 2 times per day. The wine was then pressed to our finest French oak barrels (36% new) for malolactic fermentation and aged for 18 months, with a single racking by gravity.

WINEMAKING

Merlot from our Allendale and Lusitano properties were harvested during the first week in October. The fruit was destemmed and crushed into a mixture of tanks and small 1-ton fermentors. The smaller ferments received one punch-down and one pump-over per day. The larger tanks received 2-3 pump-overs per day. After an average of 20 days on skins, the wine was pressed off into mostly French oak barrels (30% new) and barrel aged for 15 months. The wine was racked twice during the course of its barrel aging and blended for bottling in March 2019.

“Entering the bistro feels

– MHAIRRI WOODHAL, THE PROVINCE

Liquidity Bistro offers sustainable, seasonal, and artful food. Respectful to our amazing local ingredients and farmers, our menu will be ever-changing to allow us to use the freshest most seasonal ingredients.

Liquidity Bistro reflects the winery's artistic approach to life with an eclectic selection of artwork adorning the walls and colourful vibrant dishes produced by Chef Matt Martin and his culinary team. Honouring the seasons that dictate the life of the vineyard, food is freshly sourced from local farms and paired with fine wines from Liquidity as well as those of the neighbouring Okanagan Falls wineries.

Liquidity Bistro is featuring a Chef's multi-course tasting menu nightly throughout the entire season. The tasting menu enables our guests to experience more of the exciting flavours and ingredients in our kitchen. This tasting menu is also available with custom pairings of Liquidity's wines.

THE MANAGEMENT

Lucia Martin, the bistro's new operator, started her career in hospitality more than 25 years ago. After working extensively for Club Med Resorts in the Caribbean, Lucia returned to Canada where she learned about all aspects of the food and beverage industry by serving, bartending, managing and leading operations at well-known restaurant chains and for independent operators.

Lucia worked with Vintage Hospitality for eight years in various roles, managing properties, opening new ones, including Liquidity Bistro in 2014, and finally taking on the role of Director of Operations.

2017 saw Lucia looking for a change. The opportunity to take on the operation of Liquidity Bistro for herself came up and she jumped at the chance. She has always loved the Bistro, winery and people at Liquidity. She now looks forward to growing with the amazing team at Liquidity.

Meet the Chef MATT MARTIN

Matt's love of food and cooking started when he was very young, he had an interest in anything different and loved to sit in the vegetable garden and eat anything he could get his hands on. Matt came to work at Liquidity Bistro with Chef Rob Walker in 2015 and Rob nurtured Matt's creativity by allowing him the freedom to create features and fresh sheets. Matt has an insatiable appetite for books and learning, when he is not in the kitchen he can almost always be found with his nose in a culinary book.

Matt decided to further his knowledge with travel, first to Thailand and then to Denmark, Germany, the Netherlands and Belgium. Matt worked at Relae, a certified, Michelin-starred restaurant in Copenhagen owned by chef Christian Puglisi. It was at Relae that Matt learned about sustainable, local, organic cuisine. He learned about caring for the ingredients, the land and the animals. Matt spent some time working on the restaurant farm called The Farm of Ideas and here his passion for fresh local organic ingredients grew to a new level.

Matt has surrounded himself with a team of passionate like minded young chefs and together they will be creating sustainable, seasonal and artful plates.

I think it's incredibly important for people to know the story behind their food, and our farm garden will provide diners with access to hyper-local ingredients that they can actually see growing onsite.

– MATT MARTIN

The Liquidity experience extends beyond wine and food and showcases another passion of ours: art.

Art installations in the vineyard grounds go along with paintings and photographs in the bistro and tasting room. All design aspects of this property have been carefully chosen by the owner, Ian MacDonald.

The main lobby, tasting room and bistro flow seamlessly onto a large outdoor patio that frames the awe inspiring view over the edge of our infinity pond. The interior is a subtle palette of greys and whites. We felt any other tones would detract from the large window walls that frame the views and the art being displayed.

and music events make Liquidity
a total cultural experience.*”

“Rediscover the

– ROB VAN ZANTEN,

We can all agree the rose is the most loved flower in the world and we are featuring some unique varieties throughout the vineyard.

We look forward to seeing you sipping our popular rosé in our new rose gardens, located around the winery property.

On par with the world's great winery estates, Liquidity has created an elegant and private VIP residence with which to host our most important guests.

The clean modern design features walls of glass that frame spectacular sweeping views over rolling vineyards to Vaseux Lake and the McIntyre Bluffs. This unique geological remnant of the last Ice Age is one of the most photographed sights in British Columbia.

Relax beside the swimming pool on your private patio, prepare a meal in your designer Italian kitchen of local edible delights from nearby farmer's markets or better yet have one prepared by our Culinary Team.

Join us and see why Liquidity is the ultimate winery experience.
