2019 RESERVE PINOT NOIR

A perfect expression of Okanagan Falls Pinot Noir. The 667 showcases itself with beautiful, lush red fruits and full-bodied texture, and the 115 brings earthy, savory notes of thyme and forest floor. The tannins are delicate and supple and compliment the juicy acidity on the finish.

FOOD PAIRINGS

Excellent accompaniments would be garlic mushrooms on grilled ciabatta, eggplant pilaf with halloumi, tuna tartar.

VITICULTURE

100% estate grown Pinot Noir from our Allendale vineyard. Our vines have found a true sense of balance, and naturally crop low - which results in beautifully concentrated fruit, with a true sense of place.

WINEMAKING

Exclusively from our Allendale property, our Reserve Pinot Noir is a 50/50 blend of Clones 115 and 667. Each clone is fermented separately, allowing for the true expression of each clone's unique flavour profiles. This also gives us the creative freedom to emphasize those differences and cater barrel selection and cap management techniques to each individual clone. The wine spends 16 months in French oak, approximately 40% new, and was bottled in March of 2021.
